

INTERNSHIP FIELDS OF DISCIPLINE

Environmental Services, Inc. (ESI) is seeking motivated students for full-time, paid internships for the summer of 2006 (May – August) term. The selected individuals must possess a good work ethic, the ability to work in harsh field conditions, an interest in the broad field of environmental consulting, a willingness to learn new skills and be available to travel.

Archaeological Data Recovery and Mitigation

We are looking for interns in these division areas:

- Archaeology
- Ecology
- Forestry
- Hazardous Materials
- Soils
- Stream Restoration

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS:

- A student in good standing at an accredited 4-year institution
- Completion of courses in at least one of the following subjects:
 - Plant identification, dendrology
 - Natural resource sampling
 - Silviculture
 - Intro to wildlife ecology, or wildlife management
 - Intro to Archaeology
 - Intro to Anthropology
 - Environmental Geology
 - Geo Chemistry
 - Intro to Soil Science
- Ability to pass drug or alcohol screening
- A valid driver's license and clean driving record

ENVIRONMENTAL SERVICES, INC.

Hurricane Timber Damage Assessment

HOUSING CONCERNS

ESI will assist you in finding affordable housing within your host office's area.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Offices located in the following areas are currently participating in our internship program:

- Asheville, NC
- Wilmington, NC
- Raleigh, NC
- Stone Mountain, GA
- Jacksonville, FL
- St. Augustine, FL
- Destin, FL
- Port Orange, FL
- Orlando, FL
- Jupiter, FL